Steel front doors are stronger and more energy-efficient, but are limited on design styles. Fiberglass options combine the versatile designs of wooden doors with the strength of steel. If you prefer an open look and feel, entry doors with sidelights and glass allow maximum light to enter the home.

How to Install an Exterior Door: 14 Steps (with Pictures)

To install an exterior door, start by removing the old door as well as the existing interior and exterior trim and old insulation. Next, create a rough opening around your frame that's at least 1/2 inch wider and taller than the outside of the door system you're installing. Then, insert the new door into the opening and place shims on the hinge side of the door, making sure there's a gap of
