The concept of the ISS was developed in 1972 by three internationally renowned radiologists: Harold G. Jacobson M. D., Ronald O. Murray M. D., and Jack Edeiken M. D. Their hard work and dedication allowed their vision to become a reality when the first meeting of the Society was held in 1974.

The International Skeletal Society: How it Began ...

Abstract. Three radiologists with a special interest in skeletal radiology (one from Great Britain and two from the United States) laid the groundwork for the inception and development of The International Skeletal Society and its official Journal Skeletal Radiology.
